St. John Ambulance Association Annual Meet.

R. M. Greenhalgh President and
J. M. Rushton Again Elected
Secretary-Treasurer

Quietly, yet effectively, the St. John Ambulance Association carries on its work, instructing its members in its mission of service, and in being prepared to give aid in emergencies. John M. Rushton as secretary, has for several years carried on faithfully and quietly, and the community is not ungrateful of his devotion to this useful work.

At the annual meeting held on Oct. 25 the following were elected for the ensuing year: Honorary presidents, O. E. S. Whiteside and G. Kellock; president, R. M. Greenhalgh; vice president, A. McCulloch; sec.-treas., J. M. Rushton; executive committee, J. Glendenning, E. X. Hill, Geo. F. Derbyshire, E. M. Price, J. Goulding; instructors, R. M. Greenhalgh, E. X. Hill, A. McCulloch, D. C. Robert; lecturers, Dr. Borden and Dr. DeLong.

The first meeting was held on Sunday in Central school, a large number attending. Classes for beginners and for those with advanced knowledge of first aid work will be held.

Be alive to your opportunity! Disinterestedness can be overcome by setting definite objectives and working for them.

Memorial Service on Armistice Day, Wed.

Remembrance Day to Be Observed by Divine Service in St. Alban's Church

At 9 a.m. holy communion will be celebrated in St. Alban's, and at 10:55 a.m. the memorial service in memory of officers and men of the Canadian expeditionary force who fell in the Great War will be held.

Legionnaires, ex service men, Boy Scouts and Girl Guides, the latter under Mrs. R. F. Borden, will attend, and the public are asked to be present well in advance of the opening of the service, in order that they may observe two minutes of silence before the hour of 11 a.m. strikes.

The day is a public holiday, set apart as a day of remembrance by order in council of the Federal government, at the request of the Canadian Legion and others who have desired for years that the anniversary of the Armistice, which terminated the Great War, should be observed in honor of the fallen.

The service will be in charge of Rev. A. S. Pastington, B.A. The "Last Post" will be sounded by ex-Drumpler James Lowe. Ex-service men are asked to assemble at the parish hall at 10:45. If there are any desiring to place flowers on the altar, in remembrance, they should advise the rector the day prior to the service, or earlier.

The Nyrvy, the Fighting Nyrvy

Rev. Fred Cook, of Calgary, well known organizer of Alberta branch of the Navy League of Canada, made his annual canvass last week. Even if we are a far inland people and seldom smell the briny ocean, a few Coleman annually respond to his appeal. One has a vision of bluejackets, bell-bottom trousers and round sailor caps when Comrade Cook breezes in, writes his receipt and breezes out again. The kick we have is that he doesn't bring a sniff of the briny ocean or a bit of Nyrvy rum. Coleman supporters gave $25.

The names of 16 boys whose age range from 15 to 20 years are on the police list for investigation as to damage done on Halloween. Outhouses were damaged, windows broken in the basement of West Coleman school, aerial wires of radio sets cut, and other damage done. They will be brought before the magistrate if evidence is secured.

Hillcrest Miners Sign Agreement Nov. 1st.

Company Negotiated Direct With Men—United Mine Workers of America May Organize

The Herald, Lethbridge, states: Miners of Hillcrest, it was learned by the Herald, are signing the new agreement practically to a man and it is expected that the new pact between Hillcrest Collieries and their employees will go into effect Nov. 1 with a 100 per cent sign-up. It will be an agreement between the company and their men.

In connection with the situation at Hillcrest, the Alberta Labor News carries a story that Hillcrest miners are asking that the United Mine Workers of America organize a local union in that camp. Robert Livett of U.M.W. of A. has been in the camp and it is possible that a local will be formed.

Ice Hockey Gains Favor in England

Though Canadians themselves have not yet reached the heights of enthusiasm over the 1931-32 hockey season, England is making active preparation for participation in the Canadian national game, judging by the number of ice hockey sticks shipped recently to the old country by Canadian National Express. Although Englishmen seldom enjoy natural ice in their country, a number of artificial ice rinks have been built during the past two years, and the game already has a fair following. Last year a team of graduates from the University of Manitoba played a series of exhibition games which did much to popularize the sport in Great Britain.

United Church Notes

Remembrance or Armistice Sunday will be observed at St. Paul's United Church on Sunday evening at 7 p.m. A message appropriate to the occasion will be delivered by Rev. A. E. Larke. The male quartette will sing "One Sweetly, Solemn Thought."

The morning service will be at 11 a.m. and Sunday school at 12:15. G. R. Powell reports several sales of "Victor" radios during October.

Board of Trade Notes

W. McL. Clarke, of Montreal, secretary of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, with which is affiliated boards of cities and towns throughout Canada, in a circular received by the local board asks some interesting questions, a number of which are published for information of local business men:

Would a committee of your members be sufficiently well posted on what your town offers to sell your community to a small manufacturer? To a large manufacturer? Do you actually know what your community is industrially fitted for?

Have you ever issued a descriptive folder on your community? Are the children in your community receiving their education from Canadian and British textbooks?

Did you ever think of organizing a night training school for clerical duties, stenography, etc?

Is public speaking adequately taught to the youth of your community? Would a debating club be of service locally? Would some public spirited citizen donate medals?

Do you ever as business men jointly consider civic finance and other problems?

Do you ever visit, as an organization, your nearby communities? Are you thinking ahead as regards aviation?

Is there any town planning in your community?

Poppy Day Campaign to Open on Saturday

Canadian Legion Appeal on Behalf of Disabled Veterans—Wear a Poppy for Remembrance

Coleman Boy Scouts have again kindly volunteered to sell poppies in aid of disabled soldiers of the Great War. They will sell in Coleman, Crow's Nest and at the lake. As this annual appeal has been generously supported in the past, it is anticipated that equally as good support will be accorded this year.

The poppies are made in the "Veteran" shops, which were established following the war to furnish employment for disabled soldiers.

The poppy, emblem of the Flanders poppies which grow "between the crosses row on row" where thousands of Canadian soldiers lie buried, makes a forceful appeal on the anniversary of the Armistice.

Very few will need urging to buy a poppy for remembrance.

The Reason Why Ducks Are Wild

There is little danger of the duck population of the Prairies being greatly depleted if the experience of one "humrod" who recently spent a day on the marshes near St. Laurent, Manitoba, can be considered general. This sportsman fired 75 shells, costing $3.75. His fare on the Canadian National was $3.60, and his hunter's license $2.00. His bag was three ducks, or $3.10 per duck. As there was no evidence of pellets in the birds, it is believed that they died of heart failure caused by the barrage.

Masonic District No. 8 is holding its annual meeting today at Cowley.

A Call To Service

Throughout Canada and the United States national campaigns are now in progress to raise funds and supplies wherever to meet the needs of hundreds of thousands of people without employment and lacking the very necessities of life.

In the United States a great voluntary organization has been called into existence upon invitation of President Hoover, and it is now engaged in a whirlwind campaign organized upon similar lines to those followed during the war and in the recent Red Cross flood disaster appeal. The press, the theatre, the radio, the pulpit, every known kind of organization, all are being mobilized with a view to raising tens of millions of dollars within a few weeks.

In Canada, the Federal and Provincial Governments have assumed responsibility for relief measures, assisted by the municipalities. During the last session of parliament, following Premier Bennett's description of the existing situation in Western Canada as "a national calamity," the House of Commons unanimously voted an unlimited amount of relief. It was not made a party issue, but the Government's request for adequate funds was supported by Conservative, Liberal, Progressive and Labor alike.

But in Canada, as in the United States, the magnitude of the need, and the urgency of the claims of tens of thousands of people upon the sympathy and practical support of their fellow citizens, calls for the active co-operation of all people and organizations. The problem is too big for even the united forces of Federal and Provincial Governments.

The Prime Minister of Canada has, therefore, made an appeal to all the people of Canada, and all the organizations of Canada, to support a nationwide campaign to raise funds to supplement the efforts of government in meeting the needs of those who must be supplied with food, clothing, fuel and shelter throughout the coming winter months.

In other times of national disaster, such as the Halifax explosion and the northern Ontario fires, or international disasters like the Japanese earthquake, the people of Western Canada organized their forces and gave generously to the needs of the stricken. This year not so much will be expected from the people of the Prairie Provinces; instead of being givers, thousands of our people will be the recipients. It is because of the Western situation that the present appeal is made; it is in the West that conditions approaching a national disaster exist.

Nevertheless, there is much that our Western people can do to assist each other; much that neighbor can do for neighbor, and friend for friend. There are thousands of us who can still spare a little something for somebody else. Quite a considerable number of people have already "adopted" some other person or family and have been assisting them for months past, and will continue to do so while the necessity exists. This quiet, unostentatious "adoption" of others in need can, without very great sacrifice on the part of many, be very greatly extended. It will assist Governments in meeting their problems; it will help to keep down the mounting burden of public debt and taxation which is liable to seriously cripple our future activities and return to better times; it will save some of the more sensitive people from "going on relief" which some regard with almost as much dismay as starvation itself.

Let us, therefore, re-capture some of the old war-times spirit of service and sacrifice. Let us feel the thrill of a great spiritual experience. Let us do our part, small though it may be, to make adequate provisions for those in need in our own communities, so that the fear of cold and hunger will be banished from the hearts of thousands of our fellow-citizens. Such gifts bless the giver. It will lift your own spirit. It will help to end the depression and lay a firm foundation for better times. These great national campaigns in Canada and the United States may well prove the turning point in that direction. Therefore, do your part, liberally as you can; most gladly in any event.

Fine Collection of Paintings

One of the finest collections of paintings in the world is soon to be gathered in a new gallery at the Vatican. The gallery covers an area of more than 9,000 square yards. Half a dozen spacious salons will house paintings of six principal art schools, from the Byzantine to that of the 18th century. Two special galleries are completely dedicated to the work of Leonardo da Vinci and of Raphael.

The Greater Trouble

Debts Contracted In Prosperous Times Are Burden Now. "We would not be too badly off if it weren't for our debts," remarked a man at a rural gathering the other night.

There is a world of meaning behind such a remark. In most places in Canada in the country districts there is plenty of food and by turning a hand to this or that a little wheels moving. Expenses are cut to the bone and there is a general attitude in almost every quarter to make the best of things.

The debts are the trouble. Even if collection of them is not being pressed, they remain a grim shadow in the background, a growing shadow on account of the mounting interest charges.

There is too much debt, some of which was incurred more cheerfully than it can be paid. There money can be a moral something about this.—Regina Leader-Post (Evening).

To Talk On India

Leaders in different spheres of Indian life will be brought to Canada shortly by the National Council of Education, in an effort to inform Canadians as to the different angles of the Indian situation, officials of the council announced at Ottawa. Lectures will be arranged and the speakers will appear in all the leading centres of the Dominion.

Ruling On Aviation

Provinces Have Control Only Within Their Own Boundaries

The Judicial Committee of the Privy Council has allowed the appeal of the Dominion Government of Canada against a decision of the supreme court of Canada on the reference of the question of whether the Dominion or the Provincial authorities have jurisdiction over aviation matters in Canada.

The supreme court had decided the Dominion may control such aeronautical matters as are involved in international affairs and such aerial activities as the Dominion itself engages in, but ruled the provinces had jurisdiction to control and legislate on aviation matters within their own boundaries.

The supreme tribunal, however, upheld the Dominion Government's contention to supreme jurisdiction over aviation matters in Canada. Their lordships' decision incidentally upheld the validity of Dominion aeronautical legislation which had been challenged by the provinces.

SAVED IMPORTED DRESS

"After a little wearing, a lovely green gown—an imported dress—lost colour completely that it was not wearable. A friend who had admired it asked me why I wasn't wearing it any more. On hearing the reason she advised drying and re-colouring. I bought a lovely new imported Diamond Dyes. To make a long story short, it turned out beautifully. I have a lovely new dress that really cost just 15c—the price of one package of Diamond Dyes."

"I have since used Diamond Dyes for both tinting and dyeing. They do either equally well. I am not an expert dyer but I never have a failure with Diamond Dyes. They seem to be made so they always go on smoothly and evenly. They never stop, run, and friends, never know the things I dye with Diamond Dyes are re-dyed at all!"

Mrs. R.F., Quebec.

Pacific Relations Meet

Fourth Biennial Conference Is Held At Shanghai

The fourth biennial conference of the Institute of Pacific Relations, the non-official group for the discussion of international problems, was held in Shanghai. It was the first such conference in China, the first two having been held in Hawaii and the third in Kyoto, Japan. Despite the Sino-Japanese difficulties in Manchuria, complete delegations from both Japan and China were present.

Dr. Hsueh, Chinese poet, philosopher, and cultural leader, president of the conference said Japanese and Chinese realized good might result from their meeting together. Enlightened men and women "regardless of the calamities which befall their countries through the folly of their rulers."

Canada's Boat Industry

The building of small pleasure boats and canoes has expanded in a marked degree within the past five years by 50 per cent. In the number of establishments and by 88 per cent. in the value of the products made. The centre of the industry is Peterborough, Ont., where about 25 per cent. of the craft are turned out, the value of which runs to about $600,000, while the production of all Canada is around $2,000,000.

MINARD'S "KING OF PAIN" LINIMENT

NEURITIS HAS GONE!

Banished by Kruschen

"I had acute neuritis in the shoulder and left arm, due to exposure in bad weather," writes the Rev. H. E. T. "It was impossible to lift the arm to dress or to use it in any way, and, of course, the pain was dreadful. All external applications were useless. I got it completely normal again by keeping the parts affected warm and taking daily, early in the morning, Kruschen Salts in a tumbler of hot water. It took nearly a month, but every vestige of neuritis has gone."

Neuritis is typical of a dozen other complaints—some minor, some very serious—whenever all result from impurities in the blood. And it is impure blood, circulating all over the system and setting up internal troubles in the tissues, that causes these excruciating pains.

Kruschen Salts can be safely trusted to set the matter right. Because Kruschen contains just what Nature needs to permeate your internal organs back into a healthy, normal condition.

Britain's Population Grows

Increase In England and Wales Two Million Every Decade

The census figures bring home and emphasize a fact that underlies and conditions every one of our social and political problems.

The population of England and Wales is 40,000,000, as near as may be. Add the figure previously given for Scotland, just under 5,000,000, and we get a total population of 45,000,000 for Great Britain.

The number of people in England and Wales is increasing at the rate of 2,000,000 every decade.

At the beginning of the nineteenth century it was only 9,000,000. At the beginning of Queen Victoria's reign it was only 15,000,000. At the time of her diamond jubilee it was only 30,000,000.

Were the present rate of increase to continue, England and Wales in the year 2031 would be something like 80,000,000. The density of population, already greater than that of any other country, would be 1,300 to the square mile, which, falling some unparalleled technological revolution, would be beyond the capacity of any country to support.

It is only the blindest faith in material progress that dare count on such a revolution to avert the terrible consequences that must follow the excessive pressure of population upon its means of support.

Nor is it possible to assume that the surplus could be disposed of by emigration. The great mass movement of population outward from the city to the new world is already a thing of the past. There is no reason to think the new countries will lower the barriers which—under pressure of their economic situation—have raised against immigrants.—Daily Herald, London, England.

Thirst For Knowledge

Two Children Support Themselves By Trapping While Attending School. Supporting themselves by trapping, two children, aged seven and nine, endured the hardships of winter in the north country living in a tent so that they could attend school.

This was the story told at Toronto, Ontario, by Dr. J. H. MacDougall of the Provincial Department of Education, addressing the convention of the National League of Compulsory Education officials.

In their thirst for learning the children, David and Arthur Clement, whose mother had died and whose father had returned to his trap line around Hudson Bay, mushed 40 miles with a dog team, pitched their tent in five feet of snow in a spruce forest, and attended the school-car all through the winter on the five days each month in which it was in their district.

Even when the temperature sank to 50 degrees below zero they did not miss a day, Dr. MacDougall said.

Both Premiums and Losses Much Lower

Marked Drop Shown In Business Of Hall Insurance Companies

Business done by the 53 life hall insurance companies operating in western Canada in 1931, amounted to only about one-sixth of the 1930 total, both the income and losses of the companies being reduced to the proportion of the previous year's business.

Net losses amounted to $403,051 in 1931, as against losses of $2,651,326 in 1930. This represents a saving of $2,248,275 in 1931 from the 1930 figure.

At the same time the gross premiums in the three prairie provinces dropped from $2,968,389 last year to $431,120 in 1931. Accordingly the gross income of the companies decreased by $2,537,269 during the present year.

These conclusions were to be drawn from figures supplied to The Regina Leader-Post by H. H. Campbell, secretary of the Canadian Hall Insurance Writers' Association.

Alberta had suffered particularly heavy losses in proportion to the premiums paid for the past few years, Mr. Campbell indicated.

"From the repeated disastrous experience in the province of Alberta, many of the companies are seriously considering withdrawing from that province or from the hall insurance business entirely," he said. "Three companies in business since 1916 have already signified their intention to discontinue writing this class of insurance."

Of the 53 companies whose premiums and losses were represented in the figures he said, 36 were now writing in Alberta, 51 in Saskatchewan and 46 in Manitoba.

From the gross premium totals the expenses of carrying on business would have to be deducted.

Plowing By Radio

Demonstration By Montana Farmer Shows It Is Possible

It may not be long now before farmers throughout the country will be doing their plowing by radio. J. J. Lynch of Miles City, Montana, demonstrated this possibility by plowing a thirty-acre field with a tractor operated by radio.

Two hundred expert electricians, radio operators and business men from most of the Central States witnessed the demonstration. They said it was the first time in history that a tractor, so operated, had actually plowed ground.

New Zealand Trip Suggested

Suggestion that a Canadian trade delegation composed of 30 or 40 of the Dominion's leading manufacturers and business men visit New Zealand and Fiji to foster trade between those countries and Canada, was made by F. ### Famous Cathedral Cleaned

French Remove Tons Of Dust From Notre Dame de Rouen

Normandy's famous Gothic cathedral, Notre Dame de Rouen, has just emerged spick and span from its first vacuum cleaning. Five tons of dust were removed in the process.

Every corner of the great building with its lofty towers and innumerable chapels crowded with tombs, was penetrated and cleaned. The stone saints and kings on the west front received a scrubbing, their hands and faces were washed and their robes relieved of the incrustations of centuries.

In order to accomplish this cleaning, special instruments had to be constructed which included "flying scaffolds" and "rolling platforms." Incidentally, four paintings of Biblical subjects, forgotten for many years, were discovered in one of the towers by the cleaners.

The success of this cleaning has been such that it is expected that other cathedrals, especially those containing fine rose windows and stained glass, will follow this example.

Millions Of Dollars Added To Value Of Wheat Stocks In West

Ottawa, Ont.—Millions of dollars have been added to the value of Canada's wheat stocks as a result of the advance in the grain markets during the month of October. Official circles here are taking a keen interest in this upswing. Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce, early last week issued a statement on the advantage of this movement to the west in particular and to Canada as a whole.

Western members of Parliament here over the weekend, Conservative, Liberal and U.F.A., expressed delight over the news from the Winnipeg pit and there was considerable discussion as to just how much wheat was still owned by the farmers and how many had already sold and consequently would receive no direct benefit.

The statement by Mr. Stevens was based on returns prepared by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics and took into account only the gains registered between October 1 and October 21, but the gains since then have been almost as great. On the advances up to October 21, the statement estimated that the value of Canada's wheat stocks may have been increased as much as $25,000,000 or even $30,000,000. For example, No. 1 Northern advanced from $24.50 to $25.00 on October 1 to 62½ cents on October 21. Saturday, however, ten days later, No. 1 Northern had reached 70½ cents and other grades, both cash and future, had advanced proportionately. Accordingly, if $30,000,000 was near the mark as of October 21, the wheat in store must have increased in value by close to $50,000,000 at the end of the month.

On October 23, according to the reports received by the Bureau of Statistics, the Canadian wheat in storage in all elevators on this continent was 153,642,716 bushels. There is considerable still on the farms.

During the four weeks ending October 23 a total of 12,022,216 bushels of Canadian wheat was exported from Canadian and U.S. ports, 9,985,316 bushels being from Canadian ports. This is more than for the two months of August and September combined. Livestock trade is another point on which the situation looks favorable. Canada has shipped 25,000 head of cattle to Great Britain this year and shipments will continue. Early in the season prices in the United Kingdom were considered good, especially for the best grades, and although the drop in the value of the pound sterling has rather hurt the trade, Department of Agriculture officials here view the season as a whole as very satisfactory.

One effect of this export trade has been to avoid a glut in the Canadian market and officials here state that the domestic demand for wheat is better grade of beef is excellent. It has been sulted in a heavy movement this fall of feeder cattle to the farms to fatten them.

Comments By London Press

National Government Organs See Vote As Crushing Blow To Socialism

London, England.—National government organs are jubilant over the election result and generally described the overwhelming victory as a crushing repudiation of socialism. The Daily Telegraph says the "nemeses of political folly and weakness has been swift and deadly. Leaders who betrayed their trust and the party that upheld them have been taught a lesson that will long be remembered."

The newspaper adds that the National Government has a majority far beyond its expectations and that the road is open for enterprise in setting the country on its feet, and leading it into a new path of progress and prosperity.

"The result is an absolutely shattering blow to Labor," comments the News Chronicle. There has been nothing like this landslide since 1918."

The Daily Mail attributes the government victory to a growing enthusiasm in Great Britain for tariffs and the determination of the working class to deal a death blow to "predatory socialism."

The Daily Express says the Socialist party is wiped out by the election result.

"The country has delivered its judgment in no uncertain terms upon the men who ran away," comments The Times.

Leaves Fortune For Crippled Children

Detroit Man Gives $200,000 To Board Of Education

Detroit, Mich.—Louis Reberg, elderly real-estate owner, gradually going blind, turned his entire fortune of $200,000 over to the Detroit Board of Education for the benefit of crippled school children. Half the income is to go to Reberg during his lifetime and half to be used to furnish crippled children with better educational and health facilities. After his death, income and principle are to be paid out for benefit of crippled children.

Message To The Nation

Ramsay MacDonald Refers To Response To Call For National Unity

London, Eng.—Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald issued a message to the nation, thanking millions of persons of all parties who for the moment "subordinated party feelings and issues to the pressing national needs."

"A majority unique as it is gratifying which was given today must convince the whole world that when this country calls for assistance willing hands and devoted minds will always respond heartily," the message said. "We appealed for a demonstration of national unity. The response has been far beyond the dreams of the most enthusiastic of us."

"To my political friends who have suffered such unusual reverses and especially to those of them who with splendid faith and courage backed our appeal and helped to swell our victory, I give assurance that our triumph will in no way mean that either the interests or the point of view of the working classes will be overlooked in the performance of the task before us."

Nobel Prize Awarded To Cancer Specialist

Dr. Warburg, Of Germany, Is Winner This Year

Stockholm, Sweden.—Dr. Otto H. Warburg, German cancer specialist, has been awarded the Nobel prize in medicine for 1931.

Four years ago Dr. Warburg won the Botic A. Nordhoff-June thousand dollar prize for cancer research. He was at that time director of biology at the Kaiser Wilhelm Institute. He also has been active in the affairs of Palestine and at one time headed the Palestine Commission.

Last year's Nobel prize was awarded to Dr. Karl Landsteiner, who is connected with the Rockefeller Institute. In 30 years the prize has gone to a German four times.

Officials Silent Over Seizure Of Airplane

No Information Given Regarding Capture Of U.S. Machine

Ottawa, Ont.—Officials of the customs department were reticent with regard to the seizure of a United States plane, which was taken in custody when its operators were loading it with liquor in a field near Aylmer, Que. Two machines of the Royal Canadian Air Force, transporting customs preventive officers, effected the capture.

The plane is reported to have come from Rochester, N.Y., and is said to have made several trips here recently.

Western Farmers Benefit

Advance In Wheat Prices Estimated To Increase Revenue By $10,000,000

Ottawa, Ont.—Western farmers will benefit to the extent of 8,000,000 or 10,000,000 as a result of October advances in wheat prices, according to a rough estimate made by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. The Bureau estimates that the increased prices may add from $25,000,000 to $39,000,000 to the value of wheat stocks held in all positions in Canada.

In a statement prepared for Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce, the Bureau gives the cash closing prices of wheat at Winnipeg on October 1 and on October 21.

It is on the basis of this comparison that the Bureau estimates at more than $8,000,000 the benefit to western farmers of advancing wheat prices. Increases are registered along the line from No. 1 Manitoba hard to No. 1 and 2 tough Northern and No. 1 and 2 Durum. The average advance, states the Bureau, is about nine cents per bushel, or nearly double the bonus of five cents per bushel which is being paid.

"The farmers in the regions of high yields in central Alberta will benefit considerably since their threshing had been delayed and little grain sold as yet," the statement sets forth.

"The average farmer in this region has about 65 acres of wheat, yielding about 25 bushels to the acre, and the increase means an extra $145 to $150 to him."

It is significant, the Bureau continues, that these advances in prices were made during a period when deliveries of wheat were the heaviest of the season, and thus the market was subjected to real hedging pressure most of the time."

Relief For Drouth Areas

Alberta Ships Vegetables From Northern Part Of Province To South

Edmonton, Alberta.—Providing for the needs of families left facing destitution as the result of this year's drouth in southern Alberta, vegetables are being shipped from central and northern districts inland to the south. Already 20 cars have been shipped.

The vegetables, part of the enormous yield which has created a local surplus in the north, are being carried free of charge by the railways and are being distributed through the provincial government's relief organization.

Possibility that northern Alberta vegetables might be shipped to Saskatchewan drouth areas as a relief measure has been eliminated by the announcement of Hon. George Hoadley that this would not be necessary. Premier J. T. M. Anderson has stated that northern Saskatchewan's vegetable crop is sufficient to meet the needs of the south, Mr. Hoadley states.

Governor-General Appeals For Show Of Greater Faith In The Future

Weather Observatories

Plan To Enlarge Scope Of Meteorological Service In Western Canada

Toronto, Ont.—Possibility of establishing a number of additional weather observatories in western Canada will be considered at a special conference this week in Winnipeg. John Patterson, director of the Dominion Meteorological Bureau here, is leaving to attend the gathering. Representatives of various branches of agriculture, both producing and marketing, of the Dominion Experimental Farm Service, of the provincial departments of agriculture and entomological service will attend the conference.

The proposed new stations, it is urged by agricultural interests in the west, would give a more complete and accurate weather service, both as to forecasting and records, than is possible at present. Further details regarding rainfall in the prairie provinces is held especially desirable.

Entomologists are interested in an enlarged meteorological service as an assistance to them in determining the relation of rainfall, drouth, and other weather conditions to the intensity of insect pests and plant diseases.

Puss Moth Machine Used In 1800 Mile Flight

Kingston, Jamaica.—Bert Hinkler, Australian flyer, who once held the Australia-England flight record, landed here at the conclusion of a non-stop flight from New York. His time was 18 hours.

Toronto, Ont.—The flight of Bert Hinkler, noted Australian flyer, from New York to Kingston, Jamaica, set a new record for a Puss moth aeroplane, said V. O. Levick, superintendent of the De Havilland Aircraft Co. of Canada, Ltd.

The distance was about 1,800 miles. Previous record for a plane of that type, Mr. Levick said here was set by Amy Johnson, famed British aviator, recently, when she flew from London, Eng., to Warsaw, Poland, a distance of about 1,000 miles.

United States Prepared To Join World-Wide Truce On Armaments

Washington, D.C.—The United States advised the League of Nations it is willing to join in a world-wide truce on armament construction for a year. A note expressing wholehearted approval was addressed to the League at Geneva after a final conference between President Hoover and Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson.

State department officials said the message was not a lengthy one. This was interpreted as indicating that acceptance was not accompanied by numerous reservations.

This government is understood, however, to have specified that the holiday shall not apply to vessels already under construction, and that it affect only new construction which otherwise might have been started during the holiday year.

Montreal, Que.—A denunciation of the gloomy prophets, and an appeal to the business men of Canada to show faith in themselves, formed the basis of the address which His Excellency the Governor-General, Lord Bessborough, delivered to the Canadian Club at a luncheon here.

"I am convinced that times would be already appreciably less bad if a large number of people, with more imagination than judgment, had not contracted the morbid habit of proclaiming there are far worse things waiting for us around the corner," said the Governor-General.

"I am not suggesting our troubles can be dismissed with some simple formula as 'if only we all pull together everything will come right.' That attitude is as dangerous as the other. Our troubles are very real and to overcome them will test the very foundations, the very genius of our civilization. But if we lose the one thing that no man need ever lose, that is, faith, then indeed the fault will be not in the stars but in ourselves."

His Excellency dwelt on the fact that faith in our institutions had been the keynote of the British Empire, and concluded his brief address with the statement "It is just because I have found in Canada that its people still hold fast to their faith in Empire and their country, and themselves, that I refuse to entertain for one moment any doubt as to the ultimate future of Canada."

Less Emigration To U.S.

Fewer Visas Are Issued To Canadians, Says Report

Washington, D.C.—Only 1,004 Canadians arrived immigration visas for admission into the United States during September, as compared with 6,151 in the corresponding month in 1928.

The figures as announced at the state department reflect a decrease of 84 per cent. September, 1928, was used for comparison as it was the corresponding month of the last normal fiscal year.

The figures, the state department said, "show the large reduction in the number of immigration visas issued to residents of Canada since the enforcement by United States consular officers of the 'Wink' to become a public charge provision of the Immigration Act of 1917."

Bishop Of London Says Canada's Need Is Greater Population

London, Eng.—Rt. Rev. Arthur Foley Winnington-Ingram, Bishop of London, writing of his recent visit to Canada in the "Empire Review," which appeared Thursday, October 29, suggests "if the $200,000,000 spent upon keeping people unemployed in England could be spent in developing Canada, there would be something to show for it, and something which would permanently benefit the world in general."

The bishop writes that what impressed him most on his tour was that Canada would never become the great nation it should be without a far larger population.

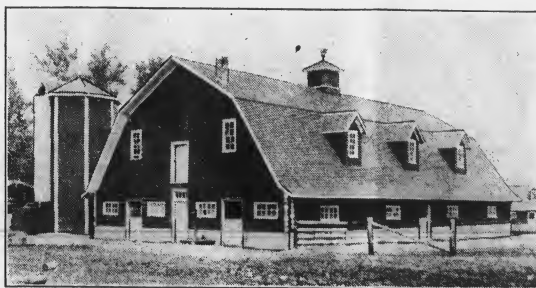

"It is all laid out for a great population," he writes. "The railway system will never pay without millions more travelling. Of course the increase must be gradual and as the nation can absorb it, Canada might be, and may be, the greatest nation upon earth," he writes. "She strides the earth at a most strategic point of the earth's surface. She has undeveloped riches beyond count. All she needs are men, boys and girls to unearth the fulness of her life, and the majority of them should be British-born."

"Let Canada not be narrow minded," the bishop continues. "Let her open her arms to all honest workers from all nations, but do not let them crowd out the old British stock. She is bound to the red strand of blood and sacrifice, the white strand of pure home life, and the blue strand of commercial honesty and integrity.

"Let the cord never be broken," he writes in conclusion, "and if it is kept firm" and if, in ever increasing numbers, we go over from the Old Country to help her in developing her strength, then the Canada of today, great as it is, will be nothing to the Canada of tomorrow."

NOTES AND COMMENTS

Increases in bank clearings, in wheat prices and industrial activity, following the demonstration by the workers of Great Britain that they are solidly behind the national government, will take the "chip off the shoulder" of many who have been "grousing" because of lack of employment.

Particularly was the "solidarity" of the workers shown, not in the manner desired by Communist agitators, but in their decision to give solid support to Ramsay MacDonald. National interests were placed above self or class-interest, and the action of British workers might well be heeded by people in these towns of the Crows Nest Pass.

Though Canada is a self-governing nation within the British Empire, and has its particular individuality in its policies, it is influenced considerably by political thought in Great Britain. The Labor party will rise again from the wreck, but for Communism there appears to be little hope in the tight little isle.

Sound administration of local affairs demands that men of mature judgment be retained on our representative bodies. People should calmly scrutinize the records of would-be representatives on our councils and school boards, and not be carried away by sectional or emotional appeals. Half-baked resolutions are dangerous, and are proposed without thought as to their probable results. More noise is often made by a number who are without voters' rights in local affairs than by those who are paying the taxes. Loyal citizens should be ever on their guard against sinister and alien influences which would tear down and have nothing of a constructive nature in their plans, except to advance their selfish ambitions and pet motives against individuals.

A few questions of interest to Board of Trade members and business men appear in this issue. Every business man should willingly contribute the small membership fee required by the local board to carry on. He should also take an active interest in its work, and if he has suggestions, make them known to the executive. A community may derive from a number of public-spirited men functioning as a board of trade, many benefits in a business and social way, and it can be made the pivotal point on which community interests centre. The live-wire business man who is an asset to the community gives time to public service through his local board of trade. W. L. Rippon, the secretary, would be pleased to receive a two-dollar membership fee for 1931.

To-day is the Fifth of November. What of it? the average Canadian boy or girl may ask. But the schoolchildren in Great Britain celebrate it with might and main. Guy Fawkes day, with its oft-repeated rhyme by the youngsters as they parade with effigies of Guy Fawkes, the notorious conspirator who was captured as he was about to blow up the Houses of Parliament, is a day prepared for long before its arrival. Coppers are scrupulously saved to purchase fireworks and crackers, and the boy or group who can put on the best fireworks display are envied by the less favored. "Please to remember the Fifth of November, its gunpowder, treason and plot," will be ringing from the throats of thousands of children as they carry their "guys" around, and the more money given them by indulgent parents and friends, the bigger will be the fireworks display and the bigger the bonfire on which they will burn Guy Fawkes as the darkness deepens. Guy Fawkes day is a historical record long to be remembered and to be made much of by the children, for their greatest delight is not in its historic value, as that it occasions an outstanding and spectacular celebration.

The boys of the local hockey club are helping themselves in a commendable way. The skating rink is in bad need of brightening up. Being in the path of the blizzard of coal dust from the International tippie, the interior has a sooty appearance, cutting down light reflection. To make it more inviting, the club is not only spending its money on improving the lighting system, but it is applying a coat of kalsomine to the lower portion of the interior.

It is strange yet interesting how "murder will out," to use a common expression. A considerable time ago The Journal received an anonymous communication. Suspicion attached itself to a certain individual, but not until almost two years later did evidence unconsciously or intentionally develop to confirm the suspicion. If one has not the courage to sign a letter, well—others can form their own conclusions of the writer's mentality, and his lack of moral courage.

Saturday last shipment was commenced, trucks conveying the merchandise to the new location. Mr. Burke will have associated with him Jimmy Booth, former president of the Kimberley board of trade.—Cranbrook Courier.

Miss Mae Moores has completed her period of training in Calgary general hospital, and also passed her exams. for registered nurse with a high percentage of marks. The marks required to pass have been increased within the past year, making the exams more difficult than heretofore. The many friends of Miss Moores, who is a former high school student here, join in congratulations.

The tennis club dance last Friday evening was voted the best yet by all who attended. The Arcadians orchestra pleased the dancers, the committee were delighted with the response and apparently there was not a single fly in the ointment to cast a shade of displeasure on the happy gathering. The committee were Mrs. S. Short and the Misses Ethel Wilson and Mae Bell. Tommy Blower's song waltz was a popular number.

Sees New Period Beginning In Expansion And Development Of Business In Western Canada

(By John F. Sweeting, Industrial Commissioner, Western Lines, Canadian Pacific Railway)

No change of particular note has taken place in the West during the last month. Conditions remain steady with varying changes in trade and some seasonal increases. The grain crop has been rapidly harvested and, while short in volume in the West, is of good grade. Advantage has been taken of the favourable weather to prepare land for the 1932 crop, and heavy rainfalls at intervals in different parts of the West have put the land in good condition for such operation.

One of the most interesting events during September was the visit of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce to the West and the holding of its annual meeting in Regina. The visit brought with it the opportunity of a full discussion on Canadian affairs and conditions, and the factors in the view of the existing situation and prospects for future business to be gauged than is possible when considering only local affairs. It is probable that in paying so much attention to the debit side of current business, the value of Canada's assets, which apparently amount to something over thirty billion dollars not including undeveloped natural resources, has been overlooked. While such resources are not, of course, inexhaustible, they are factors in calculating the business of Canada for future years.

It is along these lines that present business must give heed to what it is going to accomplish in the next 10 years, rather than to its immediate outlook. Granted that the industrial situation has shown some retrogression and the crop of the West is below the average in quantity and price, the crop situation in Eastern Canada; the increase in construction work; the tourist business; lower production and living costs, must be factors in the building up of new business, which will show much greater gains, by reason or present reductions, when the upward movement starts. Perhaps the present is being watched closely to see the coming change, or only the immediate situation is being envisaged, well not enough heed is being given to what the future holds in store.

Industrial enquiries coming into the West are of sufficient significance to give rise to the idea that a good deal of consideration is being given to this field as a manufacturing centre, and that if plans for actual development are being held up, there is no slackening in the investigations being taken place by representatives both from Great Britain and the United States. Conversations which have taken place between the West and overseas representatives all look to the ultimate development of Western branches in a field that will yield good business in the near future, and which recognizes the necessity of manufacturing within the territory. While the present is difficult, there appears to be little doubt as to the expansion and development of the Western field in the not too distant future.

Undoubtedly, the low price of staple articles has produced a good flow of domestic business, but the many uncertainties in the present situation, notwithstanding low costs, are holding up the purchase of major products, such as machinery, which means that the large industries are not getting the necessary support. Confidence is still lacking in relation to the situation as a whole, but constructive efforts are being brought to bear on a situation which must, by reason, so far as Canada is concerned, of its productive powers and ability to find new markets, soon get back to a trading level of characteristic proportions. This is essentially the beginning of a new period, within which consideration must be given to future business and preparation made to take advantage of it. A way out has always been found. The present situation demands a new gateway. Its solution appears to be near.

Mr. Guthrie Now Finds Count Bernstorff a Very Charming Person

Opinions differ in war and peace, it has been discovered by Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Minister of Justice and head of the recent Canadian delegation to the League of Nations.

While addressing the Canadian Club at Toronto recently, Mr. Guthrie mentioned that Count Bernstorff, German Ambassador to the United States in the early days of the war, and been a delegate to Geneva from his country. Recalling the "bitter feeling" that existed toward the German Ambassador after the outbreak of the war in 1914, and also the rumors that he had been connected with the fire that destroyed the Canadian Parliament Buildings, Mr. Guthrie admitted "either he or I has cooled down since then. He now appears to be a very charming person."

Some Profit

Farmers should not become too reckless with the money they are making these days. Prices are liable to drop, and the first thing they know they will be facing hard times. Last week a Saugeen township farmer shipped a cow to the Toronto market and after all expenses had been paid he was 87 cents in pocket on the sale of the beast.

Winter Housing Of Poultry

Preparing Winter Quarters For Reception Of New Flock

(By Arthur Ray, President of Saskatchewan Poultry Association)

The building which is used to house the poultry flock this winter, and which was occupied last year, will probably require some very important preparations for the reception of the new flock which is to occupy it. The house must first be made free from parasites and disease germs in order that the health of the birds may be maintained and that they may be enabled to function normally. To do this the inside walls, floor and equipment must be thoroughly cleaned and given a coat of white wash to which a disinfectant has been added. If the house has an earthen floor the top two or three inches should be taken out and four to six inches of fresh clay should be well tamped in. The yards too should be cleaned up and all rubbish and litter burned.

Broken window glass should be replaced and this unbleached cotton should replace that which has been torn. The ventilation system should be examined. If the moisture given off from the flocks of the birds is not carried out of the house, write to the Poultry Department, University of Saskatchewan, Saskatoon, or the Poultry Division, Livestock Branch, Department of Agriculture, Regina, for information on ventilating the poultry house. The house with a straw loft should have the straw taken out and fresh straw put in each fall. The straw should be well packed to a depth of two or three feet.

The equipment should consist of one nest for each five or six birds; dropping boards placed about 20 inches from the floor and eight to 10 inches beneath the roosts; hopper for dry mash placed on a stand about 18 inches from the floor and receptacles for grit, water and shell.

When the young stock is brought in from the range and placed in permanent winter quarters, care should be taken to avoid over-crowding them and the house should be left as open as possible during the first week or 10 days so that the change from range conditions to confinement will be gradual.

All undersized or deformed birds, or birds that are decidedly off-type or apparently diseased, should be removed from the flock.

The goat which supplies Mahatma Gandhi with his daily draughts of milk was awarded first prize at the English Dairy Show. As the blue ribbon was tied about its neck it was officially named "Mahatma." S. R. Whitely, an official of the show, told the judges at Royal Agricultural Hall that the price of goats had gone up in England since the Mahatma arrived.

It is calculated that, including losses from revolution, famine and pestilence, the Great War deprived the world of no fewer than 40,000,000 lives.

Facts About Baffin Island

Largest Island In The Canadian Arctic Archipelago

Baffin Island with an area of 200,000 square miles is the largest of the islands in the Canadian Arctic Archipelago. Its western coast is the nearest that though it was visited by Martin Frobisher, the great Elizabethan seaman in 1576, it has not borne the name Baffin longer than forty-five years.

Though the coast line was pretty well known by 1822 when Parry passed through Fury and Hecla Strait, there was still uncertainty as to whether various deep bays were actually bays and not channels dividing the island into several islands. Even Arrowmuth in his map of 1824 is not sure on this point. His map gives no name to the main island. The southern portion near Frobisher Strait he calls "Mela Incongnita," a name given by Queen Elizabeth following Frobisher's discovery. Near Cumberland gulf the name Cumberland Island is written, a name applied to the whole island on Foxe's map, 1635. The northern portion of the island Arrowmuth calls Cockburn land, a name given in 1822. Another name not shown by Arrowmuth is Foxe land applied to the southwest portion of the island, after Foxe's discovery of it in 1631.

The name Baffin, as far as the Geographic Board of Canada is aware, was first applied to the island on Admiralty Chart No. 563 published June 28, 1884. The island adjoins Baffin Bay and its eastern shores to their northern limit were seen first by William Baffin, the British explorer, when he penetrated as far north as Smith Sound on his fifth polar voyage in 1616.

World Needs Less Fear

People Cross Bridges They Very Seldom Come To

Commenting upon the fact that 40,000,000 Americans are engaged in work, going to ball games and driving automobiles, the Kansas City Star says:

"Yet when they see the stock market breaking they set up a wall and say there must be a long cold winter ahead, and maybe the old suit of clothes will do for another year. Meanwhile an energetic and intelligent people is at work creating and exchanging goods, getting rid of surplus and laying the foundation for a drive ahead. If the country could only forget the stock market for a month and work and live as usual, it would be surprised at its progress."

"There's a lot in this. If a lot of us would stop thinking about disasters that are going to come, but which never come, and would go about our daily tasks cheerfully and without fear, things would be a great deal better. We're all too fond of crossing perilous bridges before we come to them.—Ottawa Journal."

Memo—Go Fishing!

The fishing season of 1931 may be drawing to a close, but the ardent angler, packing away his rods and flies with a sigh, has still many a fishing treat in store through the medium of "Memo—Go Fishing!" just published by the Bobbe-Merrill Company and written by Bob Becker, internationally known fisherman and for the past ten years editor of "Woods and Waters" in the Chicago Tribune. Mr. Becker has played wordfish in the Pacific; hooked sailfish in the Gulf Stream; taken Dolly Varden trout from Alaskan waters, and angled for golden trout in lakes 11,000 feet up in the Sierras. From bass to barracuda, from trout to tuna, from pike to piranha, he tells of them all in many an exciting battle where sometimes he and quite often his quarry came off best. Canada is however his predilection, judging by the amount of space given the Dominion in this book of 350 pages. The French River, Nipigon River, and Lake of the Woods region are the scenes of many of his adventures and whole chapters are devoted to the wily musky and the fighting bass that have made these waters famous. Photographs show last phase of a battle with a trout on the Nipigon River.

Standardized Pronunciation

New Form Of English Suggested To Be Called Anglo-American

If, in the future, there is to be a standardized pronunciation of the English language there is a possibility that part of the credit must be given to Hollywood. Since the advent of the talking films the defects of British and American speech have been increasingly apparent. Instances in which the pronunciations of the two countries differed radically have necessitated the making of both an American and an English version of the same film. This is the case in a recent picture containing frequent use of the word "lieutenant" which is pronounced "lieftenant" in the English version and "lootenant" in the American version.

New questions Herbert Marshall, a London actor, why should there not be a new form of English embodying the best points of both countries' speech and acceptable to audiences in Australia as well? He suggests that the language be called "Anglo-American" and concludes that it is probable, on the whole, that "Anglo-American" will be more "Anglo" than "American" though, he adds, Englishmen will of course, have to adopt many of the American words and forms of expression, as they are now doing, and Americans in turn will have to adopt more of the English forms of courtesy.

Mr. Marshall illustrates the necessity for the standardization of the "A" sound on the part of the English by using the word "plaza." In its correct Spanish form, the word has almost the form sound of "plaza." Some Americans call it "plaza," and others "plazas." The correct English says "plazas." There is a cockney variation with an "ai" sound. The correct "Anglo-American" pronunciation, he adds, is between "plaza" and "plahza."—Christian Science Monitor.

New Cancer Serum

Ontario Doctor Announces Discovery That May Be Of Great Importance

After 40 years of research into the causes and aspects of cancer, Dr. J. E. Hett, of Kitchener, Ont., announces he has discovered a serum that diagnoses and also cures cancer. Dr. Hett claims he has used the serum on a sufficient number of presumably incurable cases with positively verified results.

The serum, according to Dr. Hett, is effective in the initial and advanced stages of the disease. Cases, however, that have gone into the final stages of the malady are beyond the help of the serum.

The feature of the serum is its effectiveness in diagnosing the presence of cancer in the tissues either external or internal. According to the claims made by Dr. Hett, patients suffering from cancerous growths in all stages but the final, establish a definite reaction to the inoculation. There is no reaction to the serum if the patient is not a cancer sufferer. Dr. Hett states that inoculation with the serum arrests the growth of the malignant tissue and thus makes feasible the combination of surgery in the treatment as the tumor may be removed either before or after the use of the serum.

Dr. Hett is convinced cancer is of germ origin. He is now working on a media and method which he expects will render cancer germs visible.

Canada continued to hold her position as the fifth trading nation of the world in 1930, according to the annual report of the Department of Trade and Commerce issued recently.

In per capita trade among the world trading nations the Dominion had risen from seventh position in 1913 to fourth position in 1930, while gradually moving down the scale in per capita volume of importations.

In production of printing paper, nickel, and asbestos, the Dominion led all others. Canada is the world's second largest gold producing country, and in output of wheat and zinc holds third place.

As far as exports are concerned the Dominion leads the world in wheat, newspaper, nickel and asbestos, is second in the export of automobiles and wheat flour, while ranking high in wood pulp, lumber, fish, copper, raw furs, etc.

Depressed values the world over are reflected in the trade figures for the current fiscal year. Reports issued by the Department show that for the first half of the fiscal year—April to September—this country imported commodities having a value of $318,221,727, while the value of exports was $295,516,989.

The imports were about $195,000,000 lower than for the corresponding period of 1930 and the export values dropped by about $138,000,000.

Duty collected during the six months was $61,312,307, as against $80,743,333, or roughly $19,000,000 under collections for the same period a year ago.

Wood Buffalo Park Map

Most Northerly Area Of Any Size Mapped In Canada

As an aid in the administration of the Wood Buffalo Park by the North West Territories and Yukon Branch of the Department of the Interior, there has just been issued by the Topographical Survey of that Department a map of the Park on the scale of eight miles to the inch.

This park lies west of Slave and Athabasca Rivers, partly in the province of Alberta and partly in the Northwest Territories, and comprises some 17,300 square miles. It is beyond the present range of intensive settlement and as a consequence maps of this region have been greatly lacking in detail, thereby rendering more difficult the problems of administration.

The present map is designated as an exploratory edition only due to the fact that the information as yet is by no means complete and much further work is required to make it so. The mapping information was largely obtained by the use of aerial photography and to date this area is the most northerly one of any considerable size so mapped in Canada.

To find out whether or not much of this could be profitably replaced by Canadian grown stock the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa has been operating experimental dehydration plants in the provinces of Ontario, Nova Scotia and British Columbia.

The Wrong Gender

A member of one of the original legations in Washington once called upon a lady of English birth and told her that he had great difficulty in mastering the English language and would most gratefully appreciate any correction she might make in his conversation. Upon leaving he bowed most politely and said:

For Needy Children

Saskatchewan Schools May Lead Helping Hand To Santa Claus

Saskatchewan schools may lend a hand to Santa Claus in preparation for his annual Christmas visitation, and so ensure that he shall have sufficient stock of toys on hand to go his nocturnal round without passing up a single home, if they respond to the call of the Provincial Boy Scouts' Association and the suggestion of the Provincial Department of Education.

The Department of Education has endorsed the proposal that the schools of the province co-operate with the Boy Scouts' Association in the establishment of toy repair shops as a "Christmas Good Turn" on behalf of needy children in the community. The objective needs no explanation or explanation other than that, though depression may have penetrated the home, it shall not invade the hearts of the children during the traditional season of peace and goodwill.

In recommending adoption of the Scouts' suggestion, the Department of Education has urged co-operation of the teachers on the ground that such activities as the toy repair shop involves "correlate closely with the content of the school curriculum in industrial arts and in citizenship."

The plan of collecting and renovating toys for ultimate distribution among needy children has been adopted to Dominion-wide proportions in recent years, by the Boy Scouts' Christmas of 1928 saw some 114 toy repair shops in operation from which renovated toys were distributed to some 50,000 children who, otherwise, would have been doomed to bitter disappointment on Christmas morning. Last year, more toy shops were organized and an even greater number of needy children made happy. Saskatchewan boy scout groups contributed their share towards the scheme an unqualified success. This year, with apparently greater results, throughout the province, the service is more insistent. Recognizing the wider claim, the co-operation of the schools throughout Saskatchewan has been sought, the Department has given the movement the sanction and recommends it to the attention of school teachers. The toy repair shops should commence operations not later than November 15 and have all work cleared up by December 22, so that children may have their own time for their own Christmas preparations, it is urged.

Particular attention to the organization of toy repair shops may be obtained, if required, from the provincial headquarters of the Boy Scouts' Association, 208 Darnley Bldg., Regina. Organization covers collection of old or discarded toys, their repair, renovation, and final distribution to the beneficiaries. It is suggested that boys and girls working in schools, and who old toys may be available around their own homes, enlist the co-operation of relatives, neighbors, and friends in the work, and solicit aid through church and school bulletins.

Having organized a toy repair shop, it is necessary to supply of "raw material." It is workshop, of course, to have a plant, necessary or factory in which to do the renovating. Perhaps the school can lend a room, or boy scout headquarters. The church may supply the need in this respect, or some vacant store or other unused building may be placed at the disposal of Santa's young assistants.

So long as the place is bright, light and is large enough to fulfil the requirements, it will be suitable.

Then comes the matter of the actual repairs. Some may call for ingenuity greater than the young people, themselves, can supply. In such cases, it is suggested that the teachers of the school manual training instructors be requisitioned, the assumption being that they will readily respond. Boys taking manual training also can supply demands for "skilled labor." School principals, church clergies, and teachers will be found ready to co-operate and it is suggested that wherever a boy scout group has established a toy repair shop in the community contribute to its success.

Ordinary repair work on small toys, such experience has shown, can be done surprisingly well by a group of older boys and girls who should work under a "director of repairs" who is a Scout or teacher with skill in handicraft and a well-stocked tool chest. Mothers and older sisters, it is said, usually prove very sympathetic, and render material assistance in the matter of dolls' clothing and repairs on woody animals.

The Scout organization issues warning, however, that workers should be garbed in serviceable old clothes for, while paint and enamel can convert a battered and decrepit exercise wagon, sled or kiddie car into a thing of beauty or utility, it will completely ruin a perfectly good suit if distributed too lavishly over its surface.

As regards distribution of the toys, it is suggested that the matter be handled by a Scout Group Committee (where there is one), or by a Committee of the school established to take care of it. After local needs are provided for, it is suggested that any remainder be divided among the charitable agencies in the nearest community, for distribution there, on the ground that, if a community-wide effort is made to collect toys, they should be distributed on a community-wide basis.

Where toy shops are organized, leaders are requested to register with the Provincial Scout Headquarters in Regina, in order to facilitate the better organization of what has become the "greatest annual country-wide service activity and in which many agencies are lending a helping hand."

Toy repair shops also are urged to report final results, giving some idea of the number of toys distributed and the number of children made happy through the efforts made.

Transportation Problems

Government May Appoint a Royal Commission To Study Situation

A despatch to the Toronto Globe from its Ottawa correspondent says: "Appointment of a royal commission to investigate Canadian transportation problems is receiving the attention of the Prime Minister and the Minister of Railways and Canada. During the past few weeks Mr. Bennett has been pre-occupied with the financial situation, but some time is now being devoted to other problems."

"It is proposed to establish a commission of five or seven, and the chairman will be an outstanding member of the Canadian judiciary, if present plans mature. There will also be on the commission a British expert of the calibre of Sir Josiah Stamp, if the government can enlist the services of such a man, while an outstanding American railwayman or economist will be included in the personnel."

"The reason for the inclusion of British and United States experts, apart from the fact that men of independent outlook are desirable, is that Canadian railway securities are largely held in the United Kingdom and the United States."

"As Canadian representatives on the commission, the Prime Minister is seeking men with the qualifications of Sir Joseph Flavelle or Sir Thomas White, Sir Henry Thornton and E. W. Beatty may serve."

Lesson: Acts 19; Ephesians 5:5-11. Devotional Reading: 2 Corinthians 13:11.

Explanations and Comments

The Forfeited Chance, verses 8, 9.—On his third Missionary Journey, Paul came to Ephesus, whence he followed his customary method of speaking to the Jews in the synagogue. For three months he preached there, but instead of heeding his message the Jews hardened their hearts, and some of them even spoke evil of "The Way" (used as a synonym by Christianity; recall Acts 9:3). Paul and the Christian part of the congregation, both Jews and Gentiles, were compelled to withdraw to the lecture-room of Tyrannus. Tyrannus was probably a Gentile who had a school of philosophy, and Paul may have seemed to the Ephesians to be only one of the wandering professors of philosophy who were so numerous at Ephesus.

Two Fruitful Years, verse 10.—For years Paul continued to teach in the school of Tyrannus, and "all that dwelt in Asia heard the word of the Lord, both Jews and Greeks." With the easy reach of Ephesus were the other cities of the Province of Asia, on the western shore of Asia Minor, and during these years all the Seven Churches of Asia mentioned in Revelation 1, 11 were probably founded. Visitation to the city of them turned carried news of the great preacher to every out-of-the-way corner of the province.

Special Miracles Wrought By Paul, verses 11, 12.—God was the power, Paul the instrument. Ephesus was the center of magical arts and provided a ready atmosphere for manifestations such as are recorded in verse 12. "The handicraftsmen of the 'suidria' used to wipe the sweat from the workman's face, and the apron was the 'suidria' or workman's short apron."—Bartlett.

Belief in such power was general. Superstition abounded. The spirit of expectancy was abroad. "Even though these men employed means to display their faith, which were unnecessary, and superstitious," says the apostle, "because of the reality of the faith, God did not suffer it to be its reward."

Jewish Exorcists, verses 13-17.—There were strolling Jews in Ephesus who travelled from place to place making their living as magicians and exorcists, professing to be able by use of incantations and ceremonies to expel evil spirits and deliver men from their malign influence. These Jews began to employ the name of Jesus and Paul in their incantations, saying, "I adjure you by Jesus whom Paul preacheth."

Similarly in the Book of Acts (19, 14, 15), there is the record of the seven sons of Sceva who used the name of Jesus as a magical incantation to expel spirits. We have to recognize that then, as now, merely psychic power might be confused at times with spiritual power, and produce an inflation of spiritual confidence, strangely devoid of moral quality. To go so far from the truth if we assert that results of such activity are always either fleeting or pretended. To go so far from the truth if we assert that results of such activity are always either fleeting or pretended. To go so far from the truth if we assert that results of such activity are always either fleeting or pretended.

The evil spirit challenged the right of these sons of Sceva to use these names—crying "Jesus I know, and Paul I know; but who are ye?" And then the man who was possessed of the demon leaped upon two of the exorcists and overpowered them, so that they were forced to flee naked and wounded.

Paul's struggle with and victory over the demon-possessed became known with the result that fear fell upon all, and the name of the Lord Jesus was magnified. "The city became convulsed and that the name of Jesus must not be lightly used or trifled with, and so they magnified it."

Air Mail Postage Rates

Reductions Go Into Effect In Order To Stimulate Business

Representations from business men all over Canada to the effect that lower air-mail postage rates would stimulate them to employ that medium for the transmission of their letters have been acceded to by the post office department, and certain reductions have now gone into effect. It was declared by post office officials at Ottawa, instructions have therefore been sent to postmasters throughout the country informing them of the new rates.

No change has been made on the initial ounce, this remaining at six cents, as on each succeeding ounce the rate has been cut in half—from 10 cents to five. In general, the new rate is a flat five-cent one, the additional cent for the first ounce being the amount of excise tax.

For international mail, however, there is no alteration in rates.

CHAPTER V. Among the Snows

As Jean stepped outside the hut it seemed as though she had walked straight into the heart of the storm. The bitter, ice-laden blast that bore down from the mountains caught away her breath, the fine driving flakes, crystal-hard, whipped her face, almost blinding her with the fury of their onslaught, whilst her feet slipped and slid on the newly fallen snow as she struggled along beside the Englishman.

"This is a good preparation for a dance!" she gasped, breathlessly, forcing her chilled lips to a smile. "For a dance? What dance?"

"There's a fancy dress ball at the hotel tonight. There won't be—much of me left to dance, will there?"

The Englishman laughed suddenly. "My chief concern is to get you back to the hotel—alive," he observed grimly.

Jean looked at him quickly. "Is it as bad as that?" she asked more soberly.

"No. At least I hope not. I didn't mean to frighten you"—hastily. "Only it seemed a trifle incongruous to be contemplating a dance when we may be struggling through several feet of snow in half an hour."

The fierce gusts of wind, lashing the snow about them in bewildering eddies, made conversation difficult, and they pushed on in a silence broken only by an occasional word of encouragement from the Englishman.

"All right," he queried once, as Jean pushed, battered and spent with the fury of the storm.

She nodded speechlessly. She had no breath left to answer, but once again her lips curved in a plucky little smile. A fresh onslaught of the wind forced them onwards, and she staggered a little as it blasted by.

"Here," he said quickly. "Take my arm. It will be better when we get into the pine-wood. The trees there will give us some protection."

They struggled forward again, arm in arm. The swirling snow had blotted out the distant mountains; lowering storm-filled clouds made a grey twilight of the day, through which they could just discern ahead a vague, formless darkness of the pine-wood.

Another ten minutes' walking brought them to it, only to find that the wanted edge of the snow was still bit of drift, and we'll be out of the worst of it. Put your arms round my neck—"Then, as she hesitated: "Do you hear? Put your arms round my neck—quick!"

The dominant ring in his voice impelled her. Obeyingly she clasped her arms about his neck, as he stooped, and the next moment she felt herself swung upward, almost as easily as a child, and firmly held in the embrace of arms like steel.

For a few yards he made good progress, thrusting his way through the swirling snow. But the task of carrying a young woman of average height and weight is no light one, even to a strong man and without the added difficulty of plunging through snow that yields treacherously at every step, and Jean could guess the strain even as he moved on him by the double burden.

"Oh, do put me down!" she urged him. "I'm sure I can walk it—really I can."

He halted for a moment. "Look down!" he said. "Think you could travel in that?"

The snow was up to his knees, above them whenever the ground bowed suddenly.

"But you?" she protested unhelpfully. "You'll—simply kill yourself."

"Small loss if I do! But as that would hardly help you out of your difficulties, I've no intention of giving up the ghost just at present."

He started on again, pressing forward slowly and determinedly, but it was only with great difficulty and exertion that he was able to make headway. Jean, her cheek against the rough towel of his coat, could hear the labouring beats of his heart as the depth of the snow increased.

"How much further?" she whispered. "Not far," he answered briefly, husbanding his breath.

A few more steps. They were all now, Jean's eyes sought his face. They were men in that bitter cold beads of sweat were running down it; he was nearing the end of his tether. She could bear it no longer. She stirred restlessly in his arms.

"Put me down," she cried imploringly. "Please put me down."

But he shook his head. "Keep still, can't you?" he muttered between his teeth. She felt his arms tighten round her.

The next moment he stumbled heavily against some surface root or branch, and he fell, the snow, and pitched forward, and in the same instant Jean felt herself sinking down, down into a soft bed of something that yielded resistlessly to her weight. Then came a violent jerk and she was up, and he was up, and she suddenly found the weight and the sensation of sinking ceased abruptly.

She lay quite still where she had fallen and, looking upwards, found herself staring straight into the eyes of the Englishman. He was lying flat on his face, on ground a little above the snow-filled hollow into which his fall had flung her, his hand grasping the strap which was fastened round her body. He had caught the flying end of it as they fell, and thus saved her from sinking into seven or eight feet of snow.

"Are you hurt?"

His voice came to her roughened with fierce anxiety.

"No. I'm not hurt, only don't leave go of your end of the strap!"

Worms, by the irritation that they cause in the stomach and intestines, deprive infants of the nourishment they should derive from food, and mal-nutrition is the result. Miller's Worm Powders destroy worms and correct the morbid conditions in the stomach and bowels that are favorable to worms, so that the full nutrition of the child is assured and development in every way encouraged.

Figures Are Curious

Number Nine cannot Be Put Down Or Out

There are some curious facts and fancies connected with numbers. The number 9 is, perhaps, the first as regards such experiences, although the number 7 is more prominent in literature and history. When you once use it, you can't get rid of it. It will turn up again no matter what you do to put it "down and out."

All through the multiplication table the product of 9 comes to 9. No matter what you multiply with or how many times you change the figures, the result is always the same.

For instance, twice 9 equals 18; add 8 and 1, and you have 9. Three times 9 equals 27; 2 and 7 make 9 again. Go on until you try 11 times 9 equals 99. This seems to bring an exception. But add the digits—9 and 9 make 18; and, again, 1 and 8 make 9. Go on to an indeterminate extent, and the thing continues. Take any number at random. For example, 450 times 9 equals 4,050. Add the digits, 4+0+5+0, which equals 9. Take 2,000 times 9, which equals 18,000, and again you have 5 and 4.

Take any row of figures, reverse the order, and subtract the lesser from the greater—the difference will certainly always be 9 or a multiple of 9. For example, 5,071 minus 1,705 equals 3,366. Add these digits and you have 18, and 1 and 8 make the familiar 9. You have the same results no matter how you raise the numbers by squares and cubes.

One more way is given by which the number 9 shows its strange powers. Write down any number you please, add its digits, and then subtract the sum of said digits from the original number. No matter what numbers you start with, the sum of the digit in the final answer will be 9.

Egyptian Government Trying Great Scheme

Will Attempt To Wash Salt From Miles Of Barren Land

A Manchester firm has received an order for two hundred thousand pounds sterling worth of machinery and control gear from the Egyptian Government to be used for one of the greatest draining schemes ever attempted. More than two thousand square miles of barren land in the Nile Delta are to be washed. The soil is full of salt, and fresh water is to be carried over it in a network of canals which will make artificial floods. As the water drains through the soil it will dissolve the salt and carry it off to special drains. In all ten electric pumping stations, sixty-eight British pumps will lift the salt to sea-level and pour it into the Mediterranean, and into three lakes not far away. Three power stations will provide the current, and there will be outdoor sub-stations at each pumping centre where giant transformers will convert the current to the smaller pressures required. Lightning arresters and automatic isolating switches will protect the high-pressure apparatus against both Nature and man. White marble panels in the pumping stations will contain the small instruments and switches by which these great forces will be controlled.

Put me down," she cried imploringly. "Please put me down."

But he shook his head. "Keep still, can't you?" he muttered between his teeth. She felt his arms tighten round her.

The next moment he stumbled heavily against some surface root or branch, and he fell, the snow, and pitched forward, and in the same instant Jean felt herself sinking down, down into a soft bed of something that yielded resistlessly to her weight. ### THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By Aline Michaelis

IMMORTALITY

These are enough to prove to me The fact of immortality:

The long-desired goal un gained, The lofty purpose unattained, The hopes that never come to flower, The meek injustice, clothed with power.

The plan that perished, incomplete, The youth that passed when life was sweet, These are enough to show Earth's days.

Are but a swiftly-passing phase; Earth's hours, at their change and strife, Are part, but not the whole of life, One room of the vast house, maybe, Through which the soul moves, proud and free.

Clever Advertising

Among the good things we've run across lately in advertising is the use of a feather in an advertisement for ball bearings and elegance. Its use keeps the complexion always clear and beautiful. "Tonic in effect. Stimulates the skin and makes it wonderfully soft-textured. Softens and whitens the face. Persians Balm is equally invaluable to men as an excellent hair restorative and cooling shaving lotion. Splendid also to protect the tender skin of the child.

Nations Still Ignorant

Have Not Learned Lesson From Past Disasters

Equality of sacrifice among the nations was stressed as the salvation of the world, by Sir William Clark, British High Commissioner in Canada. Officiating at the annual prize giving at St. Andrew's College, Sir William addressed the students. Looking back over a generation, "which in the last 20 years has seen so many disasters come upon it, culminating in the severest and most widespread depression which the world has known," Sir William expressed a fear that even now the nations of the world had not yet learned their lesson.

Sir Thomas Built On Foundation Of Consistent Advertising

With the death of Sir Thomas J. Lipton advertising loses one of its firm believers. Lipton's Tea is known throughout the world. Its publicity schemes were many, and "understanding of advertising" is credited with bringing him the phenomenal success he enjoyed.

Reduce the Acid

SICK stomachs, sour stomachs and indigestion usually mean excess acid. The stomach nerves are overstimulated.

Too much acid makes the stomach and intestines sour. Alkali kills acid bacteria. The best form is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia, because one harmless dose neutralizes many times its volume in acid. For 50 years it has been used with physicians everywhere.

Take a spoonful in water and your unhappy condition will probably be in five minutes. Then you will always know what to do. Crude and harmful methods will never appeal to you. Go, prove this for your own sake. It may save a great many disagreeable hours, and the very beginning."

Radio For Mail 'Planes

Equipment To Be Installed In All Machines On Prairie Route

All planes on the prairie airmail routes are to be radio equipped. It was learned in an interview with Roy Brown, superintendent of the western division, Canadian Airways, following his arrival from Moose Jaw to attend a conference with the Regina air board.

Only one of the Canadian Airways' planes at present operating on the "run" had been equipped up until recently but the start of the fall season will see all three Bodings, two Fokker F-14's, two Lairds and the Fleetster mail ships equipped with radio for the reception from the Dominion Government's five directive radio beacon stations on the prairie air mail route.

The system will be used for course indication in any weather and for reception of regular 15-minute weather bureau broadcasts of inestimable value to the pilot.

Mr. Brown also announced that two new Boeing airmail planes had been obtained for the western route. They are manufactured in Canada at the Boeing plant in Vancouver. These are biplanes.

The radio beacon stations are completed and in operation at Regina, Maple Creek, Sask., and Forest, Man. Work is still progressing on the installation of the stations at Red Deer and Lethbridge, Alberta, under the direction of Capt. W. L. Laurie, Royal Canadian Corps of Signals.

A special type of shielded long-wave radio receiving sets are carried in the planes designed to make use of both the "visual" and "audible" systems of reception. In all installations with the exception of the Fleetster, the radio apparatus will be mounted in a special compartment back of the pilot's seat and a vertical streamlined mast of six feet in length will bear the antenna. The control instruments will be built into the dashboard in the cockpit. Ear-phones set into the pilot's helmet will bring him the voice or signals from the radio beacon stations below.

It is the intention of Canadian Airways, Limited, to install, in addition to the radio beacon and weather service equipment, a complete two-way phone service on all planes, it was learned.

Glaciers Never Travel Alone

Line Of Smaller Ones Follow In Its Wake

When a glacier dislodges itself from the land and sails away over the Arctic Ocean, it never travels alone. In the wake of every large one floats a line of smaller companions.

The Eskimo calls this phenomenon "the duck and ducklings," and anyone who has watched the progress of the ice duck followed by her brood will appreciate the aptitude of the name.

Strange as it may seem, plants grow and blossom upon these great ice mountains. When a glacier is at rest, most attaches itself to it, and after a time seeds, brought by the wind, take root and flourish.

Persian Balm is irresistibly appealing to all women who appreciate clean and elegant. Its use keeps the complexion always clear and beautiful. "Tonic in effect. Stimulates the skin and makes it wonderfully soft-textured. Softens and whitens the face. Persians Balm is equally invaluable to men as an excellent hair restorative and cooling shaving lotion. ## COMFORT FOR COLICKY BABIES

... THROUGH CASTORIA'S GENTLE REGULATION

The best way to prevent colic, doctors say, is to avoid gas in stomach and bowels by keeping the entire intestinal tract open, free from waste. But remember this: a tiny baby's tender little organs cannot stand harsh treatment. They must be gently urged. This is just the time Castoria can help most. Castoria, you know, is made specially for babies and children. It is a pure vegetable preparation, perfectly harmless. It contains no harsh drugs, no narcotics. For years it has helped mothers through trying times with colicky babies and children suffering with digestive upsets, colds and fever. Keep genuine Castoria on hand, with the name:

"Take my yoke upon you, and learn of me; for I am meek and lowly in heart: and ye shall find rest unto your souls."—Matthew xi, 29.

I rest by serving at Thy will, Thy yoke is easy, and Thy burden light. And peace grows deep and deeper still As my obedience proves Thy might.

I hold my powers alone for Thee, Use them in loving errands of Thy grace; And calm me, though I may not see Thy methods, as before Thy face.

The rest of Christ is not that of torpor, but of harmony; it is not refusing the struggle, but conquering in it; not resting from duty, but finding rest in duty.

Mrs. Ray Drinkwater, R.R. No. 2, Hagerstown, Ont., writes: "I am the mother of seven children, and last summer one of them, 17 months old, was taken very sick with diarrhoea, and I thought she was going to die. "My husband went 7 miles to see what my sister had given her baby, and he came home with a bottle of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. I gave the child a few drops, and she was well in four days. "My other children also had diarrhoea at that time and I gave them 'Dr. Fowler's' with the same result."

Mr. Follis, inspector of hotels for the Liquor Control Board, spent Thursday in town, and stated that all hotels in his district are being maintained up to standard requirements and the liquor laws are being adhered to by licensees.

Mrs. M. W. Ferguson returned last week-end from several weeks visit to Ontario, Nova Scotia and New York. Her brother, Mr. A. Lorimer, of Guelph, Ont., whom she went east to see, is still in a precarious condition.

The provincial Grand Master of the Loyal Orange Association, Donald McNabb, of Lethbridge, and D. Taylor, field secretary, of Calgary, were here on Wednesday last to address the members of the local lodge.

The youngsters enjoyed their innocent mirth on Halloween. Many homes were visited, and apples, peanuts and candy were distributed to the disguised callers. Some sang when asked; others stood mute, too shy or dumb to say "thank you." But they apparently enjoyed the time-honored custom. One little chap was so cleverly made up that he was mistaken for a pretty little girl, until his pals gave him away.

Letter to The Editor

Dear Sir:—I would draw your attention in last week's Journal re firefighter's wages. The wage was 15c an hour straight and hoard. If the work had been confined to ten-hour shifts with $1 off for board, then you would have been correct.

But some of us were working as high as 50 hours in one day, therefore you will see we would have paid $2.00 for board on these days. We would have to be paid 25c per hour after the first ten hours in each shift if that scale was correct. I have no kick as regards the food, but I think you will agree with me that we paid for it, when you consider that 99% of the shifts worked twelve hours and over.

JAMES LOWE, West Coleman.
